The incident occurred 67 minutes into the game and was as follows:

An Apples opponent had possession of the ball and was moving up along the touchline into the Banana FC half, at this point #10, John Smith, committed a careless foul against his opponent. The referee called the foul, play stopped, and words were exchanged between the two players, as the Apples player walked away from Smith, Smith threw a punch hitting his opponent in the mid to lower back with an excessive and brutal amount of force. The punch was made with complete disregard for the safety of his opponent, as his punch landed on a soft tissue region on his opponent with a closed fist. Additionally, Smith threw the punch as his opponent walked away from him, preventing his opponent from avoiding the punch or being able to protect himself. The referee ran over and sent Smith off for the violent conduct, he left the field without further incident. Play was restarted with a direct free kick that was awarded for the initial foul Smith committed against his opponent.
